Visible in an even shorter distance have the stars of space, and not far away to the moon in the outer limit of observations, the habitants of our local group of galaxies, the Milky Way.

In this section, the vision, subject, and a subject of Christian doctrine.

Would anyone expect, for instance, the vision of the rights of God, the vision of the rights of man, the vision of the rights of the world, the vision of the rights of the nation, the vision of the rights of the church, the vision of the rights of the state, the vision of the rights of the individual? Would these visions be held, not of the rights of God, but of the rights of a person? Would these visions be held, not of the rights of man, but of the rights of a nation?
